

ALL Aboard the Polar Express

Friday, December 7th

Happy Holidays! I am excited to announce our study of the award winning book, The Polar Express, by Chris Van Allsburg. Thursday, December 6th we will begin studying this classic. On Friday, December 7th, we will have "All Aboard the Polar Express." Students are asked to wear appropriate pajamas to school for this special event. I recommend that students wear gym shoes to school, but may bring slippers to wear inside.

We will be "traveling" on the Polar Express from 1:00-2:30. We will be completing various activities and stations throughout the afternoon. Students will be singing songs, creating graphs, and much more! We will "return home" to hot chocolate and donuts.

We are in need of a few items and volunteers for this special event. If you are interested in helping out, please fill out the form below and send it in by Friday, November 30th.

Happy Holidays
Shannon Langston
